

Rocky Mountain Contact Jam Essential Information

What to pack:

Label everything you bring: shoes, towels, clothing, flashlights, musical instruments, sunglasses, books, water bottles, everything! Check the Lost & Found regularly. The Rocky Mountain Contact Jam takes no responsibility for items left behind.

- Bedding: Sleeping bag or bedding, and pillow. The cabins are heated, but it still might get slightly chilly.
- Dance clothing: loose and comfortable dance clothing, kneepads, long sleeve and long pants for our secondary, harder, dance space.
- Outdoor clothing:
  - The weather will be slightly colder than the front range (Boulder/Denver/Colorado Springs): probably warm during the day, probably pretty cold at night, with a chance it will be very cold and snowing.
  - We might be dancing outdoors on occasion, so bring clothing for outdoor dancing!
  - Other clothes: walking shoes, rain gear, layers of warm clothing (it could be very cold, especially at night), clothing for hot days (it could be hot during the day)
- Personal Care: soap, shampoo, deodorant, towels, earplugs. Please be mindful - some of us are very chemically sensitive to fragrances.
- Miscellany: Daypack, flashlights, extra batteries, writing and art supplies, cameras, yoga mats, water bottle, fabrics to beautify camp, message tables, fun costumes, dance mixes...
- Musical Instruments: Bring them, especially those that lend themselves to improvisation. Music is welcome with the knowledge that music can impact others' dance as much as another dancer (see the jam guidelines for more info).

Please, do NOT bring drugs, alcohol, tobacco, weapons, or pets.
